BATTERY GAVE A SMOKER

Addresses Were Made by Number of Prominent Men. Returns Received.

Association and election of officers took night at 9 o'clock, and was largely attended, and much interest was manifest-his desk.

After the minutes of the last meeting had been read, the president called for the treasurer's report, which showed handsome balance on hand. The president appointed the following committee to nominate officers for the ensuing year viz.: Charles E. Wingo, John S. Effett, and Thomas H. Starke. The committee brought in the following years; many of them bald and all perhaps gray, but none of them feeble or sonile?

Perhaps the spectacle is so common as to have escaped your observation or comment, but novertheless it is an object leason which means somothing.

If you will notice what these hearty old fellows are eating, you will observe that they are not munching bran crackers nor gingerly picking their way through a menu card of new fangled health foods; on the contrary, they seem to prefer a juley roast of beef, a properly turned loin of mutton, and even the deadly broiled lobster is not altogether ignored.

The point of all this is that a vigorous old age depends upon good digestion and plenty of wholesome food, and not upon disting and an endeavor to live upon bran crackers.

There is a certain class of food cranks who seem to believe that meat, coffee and many other good things are rank poisons, but these cadaverous, sickly-looking individuals are a walking condemnation of their own theories.

The matter in a putshell is that if the stomach secretes the natural digestive into some food will be promptly digested; if the stomach does not do so, and certain foods cause distress, one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after each meal will remove all difficulty, because they supply just what every weak stomach lecks—neasin, hydro-chloric acid, diastase and nux.
